

Create a List of All Bookmarks WordPerfect Magazine

The included BMLIST.WPM macro creates a list of all the bookmarks in a document, which you can print for easy reference.

To use the macro, open your document. Press Play Macro (Alt+F10), type bmlist and press (Enter). If the macro finds no bookmarks in the current document, the message, "There are no bookmarks in this document" displays. Press (Enter) to end the macro. If it does find bookmarks in the document, the macro opens a new document screen and inserts a list of all the bookmark names in alphabetical order. The macro also inserts a heading at the top of the document identifying the name of the document. If the document has not yet been saved, the heading uses "the current document" for the name. After the macro has finished, you can save or print the list of bookmarks for reference.
